Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1, 6 and 10 recite, inter alia, a method and apparatus for iteratively method for determining a unique output, subsequent to the touch of a keyboard having a counter arrangement or logic associated with each of the sensor for outputting a signal from the keys, wherein for each signal, selecting key with associated highest signal output that exceeds a selected threshold and increment the associated counter while decrement all other counters associated with other keys, and if a previous iteration determined that one of the key had been touched, reconfirming the previously touched key by comparing the respective signal with the previously touched keys and increment/decrement the respective counters; or selecting the keys having the highest signal output exceeding a selected threshold and determining that the key has been touched based on the comparison result with a count value wherein the counter is if the associated signal and increment or decrement the count value wherein the counter value is incremented and compared with a count value.

The references of record do not teach or suggest the aforementioned limitation, nor would it be obvious to modify those references to include such limitation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
